Functionality

Customizable

This is a very important element to LinkingCommunities.com. We do not create template driven, "cookie cutter" websites. Instead, each website can be completely customized to fit your communities' style. With your system you can customize it yourself or you can hire LinkingCommunities.com to do this for you.

Free Support

Our staff is here for you via Live Chat, email or phone call. If any of your members needs assistance all they need to do is ask for help.

Functional Features

LinkingCommunities.com puts the information your homeowners need at their fingertips. You choose which features to include on your website and how they are organized. You can even change your mind after go live without incurring any additional costs.

"We have relied on community members to manage our little website for years. This method has worked out ok, but since we started using the LinkingCommunities.com website system our website has never looked so good, nor have we had so many of our residence using our site. Great job LC, I will definitely spread the word.
